

Some of your background:

1. Where are you from?
2. What did you study?
3. Where have you worked?
4. What are you currently doing?

Web experiments:

1. What was your motivation to use the web?
2. How long have you been using the web?
3. What kind of projects have you created on it?
4. What project are you involved in at the moment?
5. Would you like to do any other project in the future?
6. What can you say about the development of your work in relation to software and hardware?
7. Are you interested in developing any of those?
8. What are some of the general concepts that you work on?
9. What would be your predictions for the future of the web/internet?
10. Do you work individually or collectively?

About the equipment

1. What kind of equipment do you use?
2. Are you satisfied with it?
3. Does it belong to you?
4. Are you planning to change it?
5. What kind of software/hardware would you like to be manufactured?

To finish

1. What kind of information would you like to have about people who are experimenting with the web within and outside your country?

2. Do you have any comment or suggestion for a solution with issues regarding compatibility? (like protocols, operating systems, terminals, code)
3. How do you consider that contents could be best shown in the web?
4. How do you think that the web can be used for sustainability?
5. Would you like to add any question to this interview?